EXCITING CONTEST HELD AMONG GRADE PUPILS

The Eagle's Quill subscription contest for the second semester is growing more interesting every day with the lower grades frantically searching and scratching for every subscription and renewal available.

At the present time the grades have left Mr. Haan's room far behind with Miss Aitken room having 24 subscriptions and Miss Darneille's room having 38 subscriptions.

There is a prize offered to the leading group of this contest which ends today.

The total number of subscriptions at the present is 75.

LEADING PARTS CHOSEN FOR OPERETTA

The part of Bobbie, to be impersonated by a girl, will be taken by Mary Hannaford, Marguerite Marshall will be Mrs. Fussy, the housekeeper.

RETURN GAME WITH SAMS VALLEY TONIGHT

The return game with Sams Valley will be played at Sams Valley tonight.

The boys and girls have had three regular practices this week and hope to be out full strength.

We hope there will be a large crowd from Eagle Point to cheer for us.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE HELD IN MEDFORD

The local institute held in Medford January 25, was among the most interesting of the three to be held during this school year.

The program was carefully prepared. It consisted of a talk by Mr. Bailee of the Oregon State Training School, a vocal solo by Miss Margaret Arnold, and a discussion of the May Festival, by Miss Esther Church.

In the afternoon there were several talks given among them, one by our Intermediate teacher, Miss Aitken. She gave a report on the O.S.T.A. convention at Portland.

Miss Burt of the Eagle Point High School also spoke before the High School Section of the institute on the topic of "Individual Instruction."

NOT LUNCHING

If the Mothers do not believe that the hot lunches are highly praised by all the students, they should check their lockers.

The little children are the first on the hot lunching up the stairs, peeking anxiously into the door where appetizing odors come to their eager noses.

Next are the upper Grades and High School pupils. They come in a mad rush, making bright remarks such as, "When do we eat?" After they are once settled nothing can be heard except a low buzz of chattering and sighs of perfect contentment.

We certainly appreciate the kindness of the P. T. A.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK
OBSERVED BY GRADES

Toys and different pieces of wearing apparell were among the collection of articles which the children of Miss Aitken's room made and collected, for the display last week.

The girls Four H Club met last week. A part of the meeting was spent making fudge. Miss Darnolite and the janitor, Mr. Philips, were asked to join them when sampling the candy.
